

Curriculum Vitae of Daniel R. Knowlton

Attending the Honors Program there, Dan graduated cum laude from the University of Utah with two separate bachelor's degrees, Economics and Philosophy. He then served in the Air Force National Guard and (in California) the Army National Guard. While attending law school at Western State University (now Thomas Jefferson), he worked as a real estate agent (and later, a broker). He has practiced law for over 39 years, and for the last few decades, almost entirely family law. He served two terms as President of a regional Chamber of Commerce, was a Lieutenant Governor of a regional Optimists Club district, was active with Kiwanis for a decade, and served a year as President of a mid-sized charitable organization. He has studied family law intensely, has litigated at trial and appellate levels, and concentrates entirely on family law.
